Solomon Owens House

Poolesville vicinity, Jonesville

Private

This handsome two story frame house was the home of a Black landowning family and its design of a three bay facade and two rooms down and two up was in keeping with the style popular to the era. Its roof line was accented with a cross gable pediment.

DESCRIBE THE PRESENT AND ORIGINAL (IF KNOWN) PHYSICAL APPEARANCE

This handsome two story house stands on the west side of Cattail Rd. Its facade, which is oriented towards the road, contains three bays, a door in the middle flanked by a window on each side. This is the typical design of two story frame houses of the turn of the 19th century in Maryland. The frame is covered with weatherboards, which are left unpainted and give a lovely, natural hue of color to the house. The design of the house is compact, and the tall vertical lines of the gable ends are made more striking by the short length of the facade, enhancing the attractive appearance of the house.

Behind the house is a shed, which was probably a meat house, and a garden. The interior contains two rooms down divided by a central stairway, and two rooms upstairs. There are brick stoves inside each gable end. The walls are lathed and plastered. Underneath the south gable end is a cellar.

BUILDER/ARCHITECT

STATEMENT OF SIGNIFICANCE

According to oral informants in Jerusalem/Jonesville (Betty Genus and Ora Lyles) and to the current owner/occupant Mrs. Johnson, this house was built for the family of Solomon Owens, one of the Black landowners near the turn of the 19th century. Research of deeds for this property has not been completed at this stage, but given the previous accuracy of these informants, their account is reliable.

The design of this house is especially appealing, as the photographs show.

The current owner of the Basil Bailey property, M.V. Owens, was raised in this house and should be consulted for further details of its history.

ADDENDUM: According to deed T.D. 17/78, this property was purchased by Sarah Owens from John Hilleary Tyler in 1901. This matches the oral history account. She purchased 2.50 acres, and it was a portion of the tract "Resurvey on the Beginning, part of a tract called Friendship."
